

The Trump Administration’s Public Charge Rule Could Impact 393,000 People in the Centennial State

The Trump Administration has finalized its “public charge” rule, which would make it more difficult for immigrants to obtain a green card if they use any of a wide range of public benefits. If litigation does not prevent the rule from taking effect, the policy would become effective in 60 days on Tuesday, October 15, 2019. The public charge rule would make—and has already made—immigrant families afraid to seek programs for which they are eligible and that help them stay strong, productive, and raise children who thrive.

By threatening immigration status when immigrants use programs to meet their family’s basic needs, the rule would make immigrant families in Colorado afraid to access programs—like health care and food assistance—that support essential needs. This fact sheet describes the potentially chilled population in the Centennial State, including several counties facing the greatest impact.

COLORADO

Approximately 393,000 people, including 161,000 children, may be impacted.

NATIONWIDE

Approximately 26 million people, including 9.2 million children, may be impacted.

COLORADO COUNTIES FACING THE GREATEST IMPACT

County	Total Population	Estimated Number of Potentially Impacted	Estimated Share of County Population
Denver	663,000	90,000	14%
Adams	480,000	74,000	15%
Arapahoe	618,000	63,000	10%
El Paso	665,000	28,000	4%
