Food Stamp Work Requirements for Parents

Most states only enforce work requirements for childless adults, if they enforce them at all. But work requirements have proven successful for all able-bodied adults. States should expand existing food stamp work requirements from just childless adults to all working-age, able-bodied adults.

4

Stop the Scam

Welfare fraud and abuse cost taxpayers billions and rob limited resources from the truly vulnerable. States should use advanced technology to conduct regular eligibility reviews, ensuring limited resources are only directed to those who qualify.

Asset Tests

Federal law limits assets of food stamp recipients to $2,250 or $3,250, but many states have used loopholes to waive the asset test altogether. States should restore the asset limit back to the federal baseline, refocusing limited resources and saving taxpayers more than $7 billion nationally.

6

Child Support Cooperation

Although child support is a critical tool to reducing poverty, only 27% of single-parent families on food stamps actually receive it. States should disqualify parents from food stamp assistance who fail to cooperate with child support enforcement agencies or owe unpaid court-ordered child support.

An alarming number of families in Louisiana struggle with hunger. More than 18 percent of Louisianans — and nearly 1 in 4 children — are “food insecure,” meaning they do not always have enough money to afford a nutritious diet throughout the year. That’s the second highest rate in the country, behind Mississippi.

To help address this problem, and help children maintain the health they need to succeed in school, we have the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance

Building Strong Opposition to Cuts

Organizational Sign-On Objecting to SNAP Work Requirements

Dear Members of the Missouri Senate,

We are direct service providers and advocacy organizations that respond daily to the challenges of poverty and hunger in Missouri, researching carefully what helps families succeed and what erects new barriers. We value the clients we serve and are acquainted with the realities of their lives, including obstacles to economic security that state and federal law can help to remove. We ask the General Assembly to partner with us in assisting the families we serve to be healthy, strong, and secure.

In March and April, more than 110 organizations signed a joint letter asking our General Assembly to oppose HB 1486, HB 1846, and SB 561. The undersigned organizations now join in adding a fourth bill to our list of legislation that threatens to dramatically increase hunger and the impacts of poverty in Missouri: SCS HCS HB 1443 (HB 1443).

Under these proposals, tens of thousands of low-income households containing children or other vulnerable dependents will lose access to vital food assistance through the federally-funded Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). HB 1443 also would make life much more difficult for the very vulnerable families on Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and contains provisions previously rejected by federal authorities when attempted by Kansas.

The Dangers of Linking Food Assistance to Documentation of Work

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program is the nation's most effective anti-hunger program. SNAP helps struggling families with children, seniors, people with disabilities and workers put healthy food on their tables. Hundreds of thousands of Missourians turn to SNAP when they hit hard times. SNAP's positive impacts can last a lifetime. Research shows that adults who received food stamps as young children are more likely to graduate from high school and less likely to suffer long-term health problems like obesity and heart disease.

Most states have chosen the same option around SNAP that Missouri has long adopted as its policy – supporting parents and children to access nutrition assistance to supplement low wages and help them put food on the table when they struggle to find reliable and consistent work. Now we see

Showing that Proposals Would Be Costly to the State

Impact:

DHS: $9-11 million in state dollars

OHCA: Minimal fiscal impact

Research Analysis

The PCS for HB 1270 directs the Oklahoma Health Care Authority (OHCA) and DHS to verify, respectively, the initial eligibility of every applicant for Medicaid and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), and to require applicants to complete an identity authentication process. The agencies are also directed to review, on a quarterly basis, information concerning program recipients that may affect their continued eligibility. Further, DHS is prohibited from seeking any waiver of federal work requirements associated with the SNAP program and from establishing resource and income guidelines that exceed federal standards.

Fiscal Analysis

DHS: Based upon previous caseloads numbers, prior to broad-based categorical eligibility (BBCE) requirements, DHS estimates they would have to hire an additional 400-500 Social Service Specialist at a cost of $9,000,000-$11,000,000 annually.

OHCA: The Oklahoma Health Care Authority, utilizing state and federal data exchanges, currently collects and analyzes most if not all of the information HB 1270 requires, including income verification, citizenship, residency, assets, incarceration status, dual enrollment and death records. Some of these verifications are performed more than quarterly, others less than quarterly.
